Academic Integrity Process

Violations of academic integrity could include but are not limited to plagiarism, cheating on an exam or paper, willingly providing inappropriate assistance to another student, etc. If there is a question concerning a breach of academic integrity the following process should be followed:

At every level of this process the student and the offices involved will be notified in writing. Accusations of breaches of academic integrity must be based on evidence. Details of this process can be found in the Student Handbook.