DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES

Non-Tenure Track Assistant Professor/Non Tenure-Track Instructor of Computer Science

QUALIFICATIONS: To be hired at the rank of Assistant Professor, a Ph. D. in Computer Science or closely related field, completed by time of appointment, is required. To be hired at the rank of Instructor, a Master's in Computer Science is required. Qualified applicants in all areas of Computer Science will be considered. Based on the candidate's profile and preference, the position will take one of three forms: 1) A Visiting Assistant Professor, 2) A Non-Tenure Track Assistant Professor, or 3) A Non-Tenure Track Instructor. Position 1 is renewable yearly for up to a maximum of three years. Positions 2) and 3) are renewed yearly, at first, and then for longer periods after five years. Preference will be given to candidates with a record of teaching excellence and a strong commitment to teaching and service.

WHEN: August 2017.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach, typically five to six courses a year at both the introductory and advanced levels. Additionally, the candidate will participate in curriculum development, student advising, and service to the department and university.

DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Mathematical Sciences, composed of 13 full-time and three part-time faculty, offers a Masters of Arts in Educational Mathematics, Bachelor of Arts (BA) and Bachelor of Science (BS) degree in Mathematics and Computer Science, a BS in Actuarial Science, and minors in Mathematics and Computer Science.

The mission of the department is to promote an environment of intellectual growth as a catalyst to develop certain habits of mind for students and faculty, including attention to rigorous thinking, analytical and synthesizing skills, problem-solving processes and techniques, and creativity for adaptation to evolving disciplines.

Faculty motivate and stimulate interest in the mathematical sciences for majors and non-majors alike, assist all students to understand the value in, and the applications of, the mathematical sciences, provide an adequate blend of theory and methodology, prepare our students to deal with change by helping them to learn how to learn, and support the continued professional growth of our faculty.

OTTERBEIN UNIVERSITY: Otterbein University is a small private university nationally-recognized for its intentional blending of liberal arts and professional studies through its renowned Integrative Studies curriculum and its commitments to experiential learning and community engagement. Otterbein is a recipient of the 2015 Carnegie Community Service Classification; a finalist for the 2014 President's Award for Economic Opportunity Community Service; and has been honored With Distinction by the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll since the list's inception in 2006. It stands in its category's top 10 percent in U.S. News &

World Report's guide to "America's Best Colleges." Otterbein offers more than 70 undergraduate majors; seven master's programs; and a doctorate in nursing practice (DNP). In addition, Otterbein is home to the science, technology, engineering, arts and math (STEAM) Innovation Center, a unique resource that combines academics with the business and manufacturing needs of our community.

WHERE: Our picturesque campus is perfectly situated in Westerville, Ohio, America's fifth friendliest town (Forbes), just minutes from Columbus, the 15th largest city in the country, and Ohio State University. Columbus is the hub of a growing and thriving metropolitan area of over two million people. It is the regional base, not only for state government, but also higher education, health care, financial and insurance institutions, the fashion industry, and information technology. Otterbein's commitment to opportunity started with its founding in 1847 as one of the nation's first universities to welcome women and persons of color to its community of teachers and learners, which now numbers 2,400 undergraduate and 400 graduate students. Otterbein remains committed to its relationship with the United Methodist Church and its spirit of inclusion, and welcomes people of all backgrounds to Otterbein's Model Community.
