Austin E. Knowlton Center for Equine Science

Homecoming 2024 Activities - Open to the Public!

Saturday, Sept. 21 • 9 am – 5 pm
600 N. Spring Road, Westerville, Ohio 43082

Please join the Otterbein community as we celebrate 15 years of excellence at the Austin E. Knowlton Center for Equine Science and the tremendous successes of our riding teams and riders! Activities for the day include:

Tournament of Champions Horse Show | 9 am – 5 pm | Free event...All are welcome to attend!

Join us at the Knowlton Center for this invitational horse show featuring Otterbein riders along with visiting colleges from New York, Virginia, Texas, Michigan, and Georgia. The top intercollegiate equestrian teams have been invited to our venue to ride and compete on Otterbein-owned horses. This 'catch' ride format is the pre-season classic and gives students and coaches the opportunity to showcase their riders against the best in the nation. If you've never been to a horse show, this is a fantastic opportunity to come see some of the nation's top collegiate riders and learn more about our program!

Austin E. Knowlton Center for Equine Science Tours | 10 am and 1 pm

The Austin E. Knowlton Center for Equine Science provides an important academic, economic, and recreational resource to the community, the region, the equine industry, and our outstanding students. The Knowlton Center contains classrooms, faculty and staff office space, a large indoor riding arena suitable for regional and national equestrian competitions, night caretaker quarters, reception and spectator seating, and stalls for 52 horses. Situated on approximately 70 acres in a pristine setting in the heart of the Westerville residential community, the Knowlton Center is surrounded by pasture and paddocks with turnout sheds. Only two miles from the main Otterbein University campus, the Center provides easy access to students and faculty and projects Otterbein visibly into the community. Sign up for a tour here!
